

NOMI NETWORK CORPORATE SUMMIT

Bold Investments in Workforce Development and Social Impact

In recent years, we have witnessed the private sector reexamine what it means to do good business; however, change has been gradual. Come and learn from corporate leaders, investors, and survivor advocates who have taken the bold investments necessary to accelerate social impact and decrease economic disparity. Discussions will explore tactics for eliminating human trafficking in supply chains, expanding DEI initiatives, and creating greater access so individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds can thrive in the workforce.

PAST EVENTS

FROM LAST YEAR'S ATTENDEES ...

"Thank you for including me yesterday. I learned so much and met some amazing people. I look forward to continuing the conversation on the significant work that Nomi Network is doing in Dallas and around the world. At the conference, I loved that I could interact with different people at lunch than during the speaking parts – brilliant lunch table topics. And the venue was terrific!"

-Paige Richey, Goldman Sachs

"The Nomi Network Corporate Summit event was breathtaking, and I can tell a lot of time and effort was put into the event. I loved how your team honored each survivor leader. You're doing fantastic work, and I appreciate every one of you."

-Tiffany Price, The Jensen Project

"Personally and in the context of my role, I learned a lot. It has definitely opened my eyes to the great work that Nomi Network is doing."

-Sam Lalanne, Morgan Stanley

"It was a true honor to be a Co-Chair of the first Nomi Network Corporate Summit in Frisco! It was such an impactful event, converging powerful conversations among corporate leaders from around the country. We all left inspired and ready to implement action points to create a more sustainable world, starting in our own communities. I look forward to seeing this event continue and grow!"

-Tammy Meinershagen, Blackshaw Partners and Frisco City Councilmember
